HPM Summer Exploration Program

Based on the Preliminary modelling at the BDF Zone, (April 4th news release) the Company is now in a position to move forward with resource expansion and delineation during this summer's drill program at the BDF Zone. Murchison will be leveraging the past work completed at the BDF Zone – which until now, had not previously been modelled – to significantly advance the project forward. The summer exploration program will also consist of a prospecting component, where prospecting crews will be in the field mapping and evaluating high-priority targets defined by previous and ongoing aerial EM surveys. The proceeds from today's announcement will allow the Company to achieve the two key objective from this summer's exploration program at the HPM property in Quebec: define a near-surface nickel-copper-cobalt mineral resource at the BDF Zone, and de-risk high-priority targets for future drilling.
